

A Little Of This and That

I have a note on my desk that is a reminder of the 25th reunion of the Greencastle High School Class of 1949.

The reunion will be held Saturday, August 24th, at the American Legion Home.

Reservations should be sent to Mrs. James McMillan, 1000 Indianapolis Road.

Kiwanis Club members were scheduled to hold their weekly luncheon session today at the Putnam Inn.

Speakers were to be Rick Wright and Karl Clearwaters, sponsors of the Summer Swim Team program in Greencastle.

Program arrangements were made by Kiwanian President-elect Bill Frisbie.

Here's best wishes for success to all Putnam County persons entering exhibits in this year's Indiana State Fair.

In the past, this county has always placed up among the best in the various departments for contestants.

Yesterday morning in passing: Bud Long at the Post Office.

Marion Wilson in the office.

Jerry Grimes waving as he passed in his pickup truck.

Alice Mahoney on her way to the office of County Auditor Johnny Carson.

Irma Hurst busy in the office of her husband, Spud Hurst, Putnam County Veterans Service Officer.

Dwight Liston busy sweeping the walk in front of Mac's.

Vernie Zeiner waiting for the courthouse elevator.

Judge Francis N. Hamilton and County Probation Officer Mildred Hervey in conference.

Elbert Heavin working in the southroom of the office.

DID YOU KNOW:

Early 19th century slang for the shilling in England and Ireland was the hog. To spend all one's money in one place was to go "whole hog."

The Italian language as we know it today is in effect the Florentine dialect, developed for the most part by the poets and writers under the patronage of the Medici in the 15th century.

The ancient science of alchemy was based upon the futile attempt to change lead, iron and other base metals into gold.

"The Midwest drought isn't apt to affect this fall's political corn crop."

Notice

Mrs. Ken McNulty and children, Randy and Kendra, of Florence, Colo., are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Barr of Greencastle and other relatives in the county.

Special Education Schedule Given

Circuit Court

Sarah Catherine Moser and Clarence E. Moser, petition for dissolution of marriage. James Donald Willis and Betty Jane Willis, petition for dissolution of marriage.

J.E. Deck vs. David Kaufman et al, complaint on account.

County Council To Be Represented At Board Meeting

Gene Clodfelter and Jim Headley will represent the Putnam County Council at the next meeting of the Stream Pollution Control Board on Tuesday, Aug. 20, at which time the proposed Yeager Poultry Farm will again be considered. The Council had received a letter requesting the presence of an elected official at the meeting. Additional appropriations for the County Highway and Revenue Sharing were allowed as advertised. The appropriation for Civil Defense was disallowed since it had not been properly advertised.

The transfer of funds for the County Highway were also allowed as advertised.

Budget hearings by the County Council are scheduled for Sept. 3, 4, and 5.

Obituary

William Harvey Woodall

William Harvey Woodall, 56, Greencastle, Route 2, died Thursday morning in the Putnam County Hospital.

He was born on April 19, 1918 near Somerset, Kentucky, the son of James William and Bertha Ballard Woodall.

He was married to Claud Dean McCurdy in Greencastle on January 8, 1966.

The deceased was employed as a heavy equipment operator by Howard Davis and Maurice Broadstreet.

Survivors include his wife; seven sisters, Irene Hamblen, Westfield, Mary Iva Wessler, Indianapolis, Pauline Loretta Bray, Greensburg, Bessie Ellen Summers, Louisville, Ky., Bertha Jane Leonard, Orlando, Fla., Nannie Deburk Sparks, Indianapolis; Vivian B. Merritt, Somerset, Ky., his good friend, Irene Saylor, and several nieces and nephews. He was preceded in death by his parents, three brothers and a sister.

Services will be held Saturday at 10 a.m. at the Hopkins Funeral Home with burial in the Clinton Falls Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 10 a.m. Friday.

At Cloverdale Elementary

New Principal Takes Over

Leland McCammon is in his first week as the new Cloverdale Elementary principal. His appointment to the position was recently approved by the Cloverdale School Board.

McCammon began his elementary teaching career in 1959, after graduating from Indiana State University. He holds B.S. and M.S. degrees in elementary education (M.S. in elementary administration) from ISU.

He is married to the former JoAnn Brown and has one child, Brian, who is seven months old.

Belle Union

Fish Fry

Begins Today

The Belle Union Fish Fry gets underway today featuring food, a carnival, and a different top-rated professional entertainment attraction on each day of the three day program.

The annual fish fry is sponsored by the Jefferson Township Volunteer Fire Department.

Headlining the entertainment will be popular Grand Ole Opry Star, Stonewall Jackson, and his band, The Minutemen. They will perform Friday at 8 p.m.

Tonight's entertainment will be Bill Poe and the Poe Boys.

The event is located by the Belle Union Elementary School.

McCammon has held elementary principal positions the past 10 years, coming to Cloverdale from Taylorsville Elementary, in the Bartholomew County School Corporation.

As far as any immediate changes in Cloverdale's elementary program, McCammon said he "doesn't anticipate any right away," and that any changes will be made "after I have had time to study the situation."

McCammon defines his job as principal as "setting the tone for the school, and interpreting the school for the community. The principal has to be a leader."

"The elementary school is important to the student, because it is where he receives the basic educational foundation which he will build on in high school."

McCammon said he became interested in the Cloverdale post because "my wife's

Fatality —

Putnam County's first fatality of the year was recorded the evening of July 2 when a rural Terre Haute motorist, James C. Havens, was killed in a one-car accident on U.S. 40, one-half mile east of the intersection with Ind. 43, south of Greencastle.

Bobtown Lost Out Because Belle Union There First

If Robert McCammack had been given his way, Jefferson Township's Belle Union might have been called Bobtown, a name Mr. McCammack applied to the corner where he kept store.

But while he was making arrangements for a post office stop, two other individuals beat him to the draw and laid out a village to be called Belle Union. In a way, McCammack got part of his wish since he was named postmaster of the town.

The time of Belle Union's founding was right after the Civil War when some folks thought that the eastern part of the township needed another town. In 1880 population was numbered at 100.

Belle Union is by no means the earliest town of the township. Mt. Meridian was laid out in 1833 on the National Road and was shared with Marion Township. It was first called Carthage, but the name ran into trouble when a post office was sought. To avoid conflict with another post office, the name was changed to Mt. Meridian, however, old-timers, continued to refer to the place as "Old Cat."

One of the landmarks of Mt. Meridian was the Half Way House, so called because it was midway between Indianapolis and Terre Haute on the National. It was put up in 1830 and such notables as Daniel Webster and Abraham Lincoln were said to have spent overnight there. The population in 1870 was 90 people and 10 years later a gain of nine had been made.

Another Jefferson town surveyed in 1893 is still on the map but in an abbreviated form. Broad Park, named from J.C. Broadstreet and Hugh Parker had a store, a school and a blacksmith shop, plus a post office which was discontinued in 1903. Today only a repair shop marks the spot, but the name remains.

Another town that never really got off the ground was Washington, east of Walnut Chapel church. It was laid out about the same time as Broad Park and was a post office town for three years.

Among the other spots which might have grown into a town was Twin Taverns at the junction of U.S. 40 and Ind. 240, now called the "Y".

Schools came early to Jefferson Township and the usual number of one-roomers were built to meet the needs of that day. A brick school in the south central part of Belle Union housed 11 grades and is now the residence of Zella Cummings. Another school east of town was later turned into a residence and the present school was built in 1924-25.

Among churches whose founding dates back into the last century are the Regular Baptist, 1829; Mill Creek Methodist, 1829; Jones Meeting House Methodist, 1838; Union Valley, 1971; New Providence, 1836; Walnut Chapel Friends, 1884 and Church of Christ, 1892. A Christian Union church existed about Civil War times.

Jefferson Township was once a part of a larger area called Deer Creek Township, which included Jefferson, Warren and Cloverdale. Jefferson and Mill Creek existed as separate townships until 1922. Most of the land entries were made between 1822 and 1833.

The first marriage in the township was that of William Aldrich to Betsey Higgins. The first child born in the township was Caroline Sherrill, daughter of John C. Sherrill, who was instrumental in forming the New Providence Baptist Church.

Among the pioneer names still found on mail boxes in Jefferson Township are those of Allee, Buis, Hurst, Parker, Broadstreet and McCammack.

Small Car Sales Level Off On Market

Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP) — The small car popularity intensified by this winter's gasoline shortage continues, but recent sales figures show the large cars market isn't dead.

Seven months ago small cars grabbed a record 54 per cent of the U.S. market while big cars were gathering dust in dealer lots.

Inventories of the big gas-guzzlers were double those of small cars.

Small cars are still selling well and are expected to account for almost half of U.S. auto sales this year. But the big cars have won back some of their popularity.

Last month full-and intermediate-size cars nailed down 55 per cent of the domestic market. And now the automakers are sponsoring sales contests aimed directly at their small products.

"The gut of the matter," one auto analyst said, "is that there was an over-reaction in January, February and March to small cars. Now the reaction has reversed itself faster than anyone expected."

Opening lead — queen of clubs.

There are hands where declarer must guess precisely which of two feasible lines of play to pursue. But in such cases there are nearly always clues to lead declarer out of the realm of guesswork and into the sphere of logical reasoning.

The methods employed in this field are certainly not a state secret. Basically, what declarer does is to assemble all the information he can about the defenders' hands before committing himself to the crucial guess.

Take this deal where declarer's only problem is which way to take the two-way heart finesse. He wins the club lead with the ace, draws three rounds of trumps, cashes the A-K-Q of diamonds, and exits with a club.

If West winds up on lead with the jack, the contest is over because he is forced to return a heart and relieve declarer of the guess in that suit.

So let's assume that East wins the club with the king and continues with the ten. South ruffs and can no longer evade the crucial question of which way to take the heart finesse.

All the same, his methods have paid off. West has shown up with precisely three spades, two diamonds and two clubs — neither more nor less — and hence must have started with exactly six hearts.

Crosschecking this, East has shown up with precisely one spade, five diamonds and six clubs — and hence must have started with a singleton heart.

Accordingly, South cashes the king of hearts, forcing East to follow suit with his only heart, and takes a heart finesse through West in the absolute assurance that the finesse will succeed.

Cloverdale Barracks 1994

Cloverdale Barracks 1994 and auxiliary met for their regular meeting August 7 at the American Legion Home with a carry-in dinner at noon. The blessing was given by Nina Gaston, president.

Five visitors were present for the dinner. Following the dinner, Commander Otto Smith asked to have a joint meeting with the auxiliary in order to give a report of the June district meeting. Commander Smith was elected adjutant for the sixth district. The next district meeting will be at Crawfordsville with a report of the state convention.

Separate business meetings followed. Nina Gaston, president, presided over the business meeting for the auxiliary. The altar was prepared by Eliza Shumaker and Elma Osterman, chaplain. Nineteen auxiliary members were present. Cards were sent to the sick and shut-ins.

Ana O'Connor and Dorothy Rice were appointed in charge of the sewing for the workday August 23 at the home of Nina Gaston.

Slover-Taylor Vows

Miss Dorothy Rozelle Taylor became the bride of David Raymond Slover on August 10 in an afternoon ceremony in the Gobin Memorial United Methodist Church. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Gerald Trigg, pastor of the church. Bridal music was played by Mrs. John McFarland.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ralph Taylor of Greencastle. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Slover of Morrisville, Pa.

The bride wore a floor length gown of candlelight organza made with a bodice of Alencon lace and decorated with clusters of seed pearls. Her elbow length veil had a Camelot style cap accented with lace and pearls. She carried a nosegay of gardenias surrounded by colorful summer flowers.

Mrs. Mark Elliott of Cincinnati, Ohio, served as matron-of-honor. Misses Nancy and Susan Slover, sisters of the groom, and Mrs. Lawrence Taylor, sister-in-law of the bride, served as bridesmaids. The attendants were attired in identical gowns of aqua silk and carried bouquets of summer flowers. They wore picture style straw hats with streamers to match their dresses.

Mr. Raymond Slover of Morrisville served as his son's best man. Ushers were Lawrence Taylor of Greencastle, brother of the bride, Mark Anderson of Dayton, Ohio, and Larry Low of Dunnsville, Va.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of peach colored silk jersey with a corsage of white rosebuds. The groom's mother wore a teal blue dress and a corsage of yellow rosebuds.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Charterhouse. Serving at the refreshment tables were Miss Phyllis White of Greencastle, Mrs. John Rissler of Brazil, and Mrs. Raymond Lisby of Coatesville. Mrs. George Biada of Rochester, Minn., was in charge of registering guests.

The bride was graduated from Stetson University and is a teacher in the Valusia County School System, DeLand, Fla. The groom attends Stetson University and will serve as a fraternity ad-

Cooked lentils make a thrifty and filling salad. Save the liquid in which you have cooked the lentils and add it to a barley soup. Because the mixture may look drab, you may want to add lots of minced parsley or scallion.

The redder canned salmon is, the higher it is priced. Use the redder variety for salad, the paler varieties for a loaf or patties.

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.

Alan's survey of 162 students shows the hazard of "overkill," which results in "emotional recoil." Good editors know just when to change the front page menu and quit serving a rehash. People are more interested in their family than in Washington!

CASE B-166: Alan S. aged 28, teaches political science.

"Dr. Crane," he asked, "don't you think that Watergate may have been headlined too long?"

"Will it be such a guarantee of a smashing Democratic victory in November as some people have claimed?"

"In a survey of the 162 students in my various classes, 138 reported that their parents were nauseated by the very word Watergate in a front page headline.

"Yet over half of my students come from homes where the parents are registered as Democrats.

"So isn't it possible to 'overkill,' as it were, and change a potential political asset into a liability?"

EMOTIONAL RECOIL

Dr. Raymond Dodge, former president of the American Psychological Association, was one of my graduate school professors while I attended Yale.

And he stressed what he termed "emotional recoil." This often results from what Prof. Alan calls "overkill."

For we human beings can become nauseated even by good things if they are forced upon us too long.

You Bible scholars will thus remember that the Hebrews criticized Moses because they lacked food.

So Moses said God would feed them with Manna, which proved true.

But it wasn't long till they became "fed up" with Manna and bemoaned the fact they weren't back in slavery in Egypt, for they said then they enjoyed the fleshpots of Egypt.

When they threatened to mutiny against Moses, he besought God, who informed Moses that the people's complaint had been duly recorded and God was sending them flocks of quails.

But God also told Moses to warn the people that they'd ultimately be so nauseated by a heavy meat diet that it would come out of their noses!

Which proved true. For emotional recoil occurs regarding print and TV menus as well as the dinner table variety.

Even the modern "anti-establishment" attitude on the part of many youth, is but a form of recoil against dictatorial parents who forced conservative business doctrines upon them so steadily that they revolted.

On college campuses, too, we often find that the worst hellsions, who sneak cases of beer into dormitories and flaunt moral regulations, are the sons of strict overmen who employed "overkill" in their preaching about temperance.

One reason for the popularity of "middle-of-the-road" political candidates, in contract to the extremists on the right as well as the left, is this recoil to "overkill."

During this period of severe newspaper shortages, it might thus have been better journalistic "horse sense" to have buried the Washington stories in inside pages, especially after the first "shock" reaction of the initial front page headlined scoops.

For a scoop is only at its 100% peak the first day; then drops rapidly to a much lower reader interest score than such advice features as this "Worry Clinic."

In fact, my cases dealing with stodgy wives who fail to serve delectable boudoir cheesecake, would have rated far greater readership than Watergate rehash, if run side by side with the latter on Page One!

'The Tiger 50' - Crawley: They Love It

Undefeated Season Provides Incentive For Greencastle

"It will serve as a goal to reach for every team. If one team can do it, another can."

These are the terms with which Greencastle head football coach Gary Cassells deals with the Tiger Cubs' undefeated 1973 season, and what effect it will have on this year's and succeeding gridiron teams at Greencastle.

"The boys want to be part of a football tradition that's been started. They want to live up to the potential."

Conditioning drills began Monday for the Cubs' varsity with Cassells and assistants Dick Crawley and John Riggs cracking the whip to get them in shape for the two-a-day sessions which get underway today.

An immediate effect from last year's team has already come to the surface in the initial three days of practice, this number of vacancies created by the fifteen graduating seniors from 1973's 10-0 squad.

"Since we lost so many last year, there are a lot of positions open, and a lot of players are fighting for them."

These positions were vacated by the likes of Brad Beaman, Rick Parrish, Kevin Pierce, Bob Newsom, John Allee, Bill Wallace, Kim Jones, Carter Bock, Ron Greenlee, Gene Pingleton, Harry Morrison, Mike DeVyllder, Jon Siebrase, Brent O'Neal, Gene Grable, and J.C. Knauer.

To fill these big shoes, the coaching staff welcomed nine returning Cub lettermen, along with one transfer letterman from Terre Haute North, among fifty-three reportees to drills Monday, the turnout reflecting another effect from last year's sensational season.

"That's five more than we had last year," observes Cassells, "and the most I've ever had since coming here."

That was in 1971, when he and his staff began a rebuilding program that resulted in a record of 3-6 that year and 4-6 in 1972 before it reaped its harvest with the perfect 1973 slate.

Crawley has been on the football staff for eight years going on nine, seven of which were spent as freshman coach. Last year he joined the varsity staff and handled many of the offensive responsibilities, a capacity which he will repeat this year as offensive coordinator and offensive line coach.

Riggs came to Greencastle the same time Cassells did, and has served as his assistant for those three years, coordinating the defense as he will do this campaign.

Dan Layton, the varsity wrestling coach who led the Cubs to conference and sectional grappling championships last winter, will again coach the freshman football team. Doug Miller, up from the junior high, will assist Layton with the Cub rookies.

All of these coaches cannot forecast too much about this year's prospects at this point, as the pads have not been donned until today, and the tell-tale hitting begun.

The two-a-days which started today are scheduled to run until school starts, with the first scrimmage slated for Saturday.

In the meantime the Cubs will work out according to the cardio-vascular system advocated by Cassells, which substitutes a lot of jogging and stretching for calisthenics as an equal remedy to the ever-present injury problem.

Working with the system last year, Cassells and his staff found no appreciable difference in the number of injuries as compared to the older exercise methods.

Along with the "lonngggg" jog, as Crawley writes out on the daily practice schedule, the Cubs will go through drills such as the 'Tiger 50' and 'Catch the Rabbit,' in addition to learning enough plays to enable them to scrimmage this weekend.

So far, Cassells and his staff have been encouraged by the response of the 53 Cubs out, and things are going full speed ahead toward the county jamboree Aug. 24.

DPU Grad To Kick In WFL Tonight

DePauw University alumnus Jim Pociak-Martin probably will handle the punting chores for Southern California tonight when the Suns meet Houston in the regular Thursday night television WFL football game.

Pociak, who changed his name to Pociak-Martin recently, was graduated from DePauw in 1971. He was the nation's number two College Division punter in the 1970 season with a 43.5 average and signed as a free agent with the Denver Broncos when the season ended.

He was subsequently released by Denver and return to DePauw to pursue a master's degree. He joined the Suns recently when the team was granted a franchise in the new World Football League.

During his last year at DePauw Pociak led the ICC in punting with a 44.0 average, set a new one-season DePauw punting record, and a new DePauw record for the longest field goal (48 yards). He capped the campaign with election to the all-ICC first team as kicking specialist.

Ball Whackers Host Fillmore Tonight

The Greencastle Ball Whackers girls softball team fought back valiantly from an 11-2 deficit at Amo Tuesday night before finally falling to the undefeated Stompers for the second time this season, 13-10.

Annie Lear and Laura Tharp both smacked home runs for the local team, which experienced one fatal defensive letdown when Becky Hunter was forced from the game with an injury. Outside of that lapse, which provided them with the nine run deficit to make up, the girls played outstanding defense, according to assistant coach Mike York. The Ball Whackers will be looking for that elusive first win of the year when they host Fillmore at Robe Ann Park tonight at eight o'clock.

Sunday the girls will entertain Patrickburg in a return engagement, while Monday night at Robe Ann shapes up as a fierce battle with the Clover Girls. The Patrickburg game is at 6 p.m., with the Cloverdale contest slated for 8 p.m.

Also on tap next week is a fun game with the Greencastle Jaycees, tentatively set for Wednesday. Exact time and special rules will be forthcoming.

Paterno Tops Coaches List

By BEN THOMAS
AP Sports Writer

Okay all you college football trivia experts: Which two famous coaches have identical winning percentage marks when the figuring is carried only to three places?

Which coach, with at least eight years in the business, has the best winning percentage?

And of the coaches with the best winning percentages, whose teams have been tied the most?

All these and other questions can be answered now that Elmer "Scoop" Hudgins, the information director of the Southeastern Conference, has compiled and again released his list of Top 20 Coaches entering the 1974 season.

Answer No. 1: Alabama's

Paul "Bear" Bryant and Ohio State's Woody Hayes are the coaches with identical winning percentage marks—.753.

Hudgins, who originated his list in 1958 when he was sports information director at Vanderbilt University, has figured a little bit more, however, and reports that Bryant is just a smidgen ahead—.7539 to .7536.

Answer No. 2: Penn State's Joe Paterno qualified for Hudgins' list for the first time this year and immediately vaulted into the No. 1 spot with his record of 74 victories, 13 defeats and one tie. That's for an .848 mark.

Paterno replaced Arizona State's Frank Kush, who dropped to the runner-up spot with a record of 132 victories, 34 losses and one tie for .793.

Answer No. 3: Bear Bryant has been tied 16 times, far more than other coach on the Top 20 list.

Hudgins originated the Top 20 list "to foster national recognition of the most successful men in the profession."

They must have a winning record and at least five years service at a major school. To qualify for the 1974 honor roll, a coach must have 70 or more victories.

Hudgins 1974 list actually has 21 coaches listed because Georgia's Vince Dooley, No. 11, and Clemson's Jim "Red" Parker, No. 17, each have 73 career victories.

The 1974 list:

Palmer Breathes Life Into Orioles' Chances

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

Jim Palmer is alive and well, and suddenly the Baltimore Orioles' pennant chances in the tight American League East look a lot healthier.

Palmer, 28, returning to the starting rotation after spending 54 days on the disabled list with arm trouble, tossed six strong innings Tuesday night in pitching the Orioles to an 8-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

"I've got to be happy, he had good velocity," said Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver.

White Sox skipper Chuck Tanner was more than impressed by the performance of Palmer, last year's Cy Young Award winner.

"He threw free and easy," said Tanner, "and when he got in trouble he reached back and extended himself. This guy could be the difference in the division."

Elsewhere in the American League, Milwaukee tripped Texas 5-1, Kansas City defeated Detroit 6-2, Boston blanked California 3-0 and Oakland beat New York 6-1.

Cleveland and Minnesota were not scheduled.

Boog Powell made Palmer's job easier by belting a grand slam in the first inning.

"All I had to do was throw strikes," Palmer said. "There was no pressure on me at all..."

The Orioles scored seven runs in the first two innings.

Brewers 5, Rangers 1

Johnny Briggs' two-run single keyed a four-run eighth inning that carried the Brewers to victory.

Reds Hit With Heavy Pirate Artillery

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Sparky Anderson may put in for combat pay.

"When Al Oliver hit his homer to make it 12-2, I yelled out: 'Tell Danny Murtaugh we surrender,'" the Cincinnati Manager noted with chagrin Tuesday night.

But the Pirates didn't stop the heavy artillery. They continued shelling the Reds and went on to a 14-3 rout on 21 hits.

"That was just good, old-fashioned country hardball," Anderson said. "The ball hit hardest all night was a single to center by Willie Stargell. If that would have hit concrete, it would have moved it three feet."

But Stargell wasn't the only Red-killer. Richie Zisk drove in a run for the 10th straight game, and Al Oliver drove in five.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Houston Astros stopped the Chicago Cubs 3-1; the Atlanta Braves stopped the Montreal Expos 4-3; the Philadelphia Phillies nipped the San Francisco Giants 6-5; the New York Mets turned back the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-0 and the San Diego Padres beat the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1.

Zisk and Ed Kirkpatrick each drove in two runs during a five-run Pittsburgh first inning and the Pirates kept punishing the Reds' pitching staff.

The victory pushed Pittsburgh over the .500 mark for the first time this season and gave them eight victories in their last nine games and 22 in their last 31.

Astros 3, Cubs 1

Cesar Cedeno's leadoff triple sparked a two-run ninth inning that carried Houston over Chicago. Milt May followed Cedeno's triple with a single to snap a 1-1 tie.

Brewers 5, Expos 3

Dusty Baker belted his 14th home run of the year and an RBI single that highlighted a three-run fourth inning, leading Atlanta over Montreal for the Braves' fifth straight win.

Atlanta's Ron Reed, 8-6, scattered eight hits for the victory.

Phillies 6, Giants 5

Mike Schmidt ripped a pair of towering home runs and drove in three runs, leading Philadelphia past San Francisco.

Schmidt hit a two-run homer in the first inning and a solo shot in the third, his 27th, as the Phillies built a 6-1 lead against San Francisco starter Jim Barr.

Mets 3, Dodgers 0

Left-hander Jon Matlack tossed a four-hitter and Jerry Grote's first home run in three months helped New York over Los Angeles.

Matlack, 11-9, struck out eight and walked none in recording his fifth shutout of the season.

Padres 2, Cardinals 1

Dave Winfield knocked in two runs with a single and double, leading San Diego over St. Louis.

San Diego's Lowell Palmer, 2-4, called on to replace injured starter Vicente Romo with two out in the first inning, halted the Cardinals on six hits, including Reggie Smith's 16th home run.

Red Sox 3, Angels 0

Crafty Luis Tiant scuttled California on four hits for his 18th victory against eight losses, striking out five and walking four.

Tiant joined Chicago's Wilbur Wood as the only 18-game winners in the major leagues.

It was Tiant's seventh triumph in his last eight decisions.

Boston scored two runs in the second. Tommy Harper singled home the final run in the eighth.

A's 6, Yankees 1

Oakland rallied for three runs in the sixth inning and three more in the seventh to beat the Yankees behind the seven-hit pitching of Ken Holtzman, 13-13.

Around The U.S.A. With Baseball

CINCINNATI (AP) — Mark Lewis, a 15-year-old, will go great distances to gain extra school credits.

He's a third of the way toward completing a trip that will make him the envy of many households.

The youthful Californian is in the midst of a 9,000-mile tour of all 24 major league baseball parks—in a five-week span.

It has been a lot of memories and miles for Mark, his father Bill and sister Lynn, 12.

"We're baseball nuts," said Bill, an instructor at Cerritos Junior College in Los Angeles.

"I got the idea about two years ago while watching a Dodger game in San Diego," Mark said. "I said to dad, 'Wouldn't it be great to see all 24 major league parks?'"

Mark's father laughed and thought little of it, until he checked the map.

"When I realized it could be done, I got as excited as Mark," Lewis said.

They left Los Angeles July 25 in a gear-laden camper.

"The biggest disappointment was California's Nolan Ryan barely missing his third no-hitter," said Mark, before the trio departed for Detroit Tuesday.

"We saw Lou Brock steal two bases in a game and I got my picture taken with him," beamed the blond youth.

"The Texas Rangers really rolled out the red carpet," he said. "They gave us free tickets, baseballs, pictures and T-shirts."

"In Milwaukee, I talked to a Brewers publicity man who wanted to make the same trip when he was 19," said Mark.

"But he couldn't do it."

Mark is a student in a mentally-gifted minors program at La Mirada Junior High School. The specially approved undertaking calls for at least 60 hours logged on a chosen project.

"I've got 73 hours in already," said Mark, who also finds time to play second base on a Colt League team. His father is a league official. His mother manages a girl's softball team and pig-tailed Lynn is a second baseman.

The trip will end Sept. 2 in Oakland.

"We won't be able to see games in two parks—Yankee Stadium, which is under construction and Veterans Stadium in Philadelphia—but we're going to visit them anyway," said Mark.

The Everts In Canada

TORONTO (AP) — Twenty-seven years ago, a collegian from Notre Dame named Jimmy Evert beat Emery Neale of Seattle in five sets for the Canadian Open tennis title.

"We were strictly amateurs in those days," Evert recalled Tuesday. "I got my room and board and $25 expense money."

That was in Vancouver, B.C., in 1947.

This week, his daughters, Chris, 19, and Jeanne, 16, are prime contenders for the women's singles crown in the same Canadian Open, but now the prize money totals $130,000.

The Fort Lauderdale, Fla., sisters could divide $9,600 if they meet in Sunday's singles final, a good possibility.

Top-seeded Chris, reigning Wimbledon and U.S. Clay Court champion, rolled past Marie Nasuelli of Italy 6-1, 6-2 in the opening round at the Toronto Lawn Tennis Club Tuesday. She has gone eight tournaments on clay-court surfaces without a single loss and even so says: "I don't think I'm playing my best tennis."

The victory pushed Pittsburgh over the .500 mark for the first time this season and gave them eight victories in their last nine games and 22 in their last 31.

Jeanne, the third seed who says she is "kinda honored" to be Chris' sister, beat an inconsistent Patti Hogan 6-3, 6-1.

Ilie Nastase, who won this tournament in 1972, was a victim of Bill Brown of San Luis Obispo, Calif., who beat the moody Romanian 6-1, 6-1.

Brown, 29, was less than enthusiastic with the victory over Nastase, who played poorly.

Top-seeded Jimmy Connors, the Wimbledon champion, went to a tie-breaker to beat Ove Bengtson in the first set 7-6 but won easily in the second set 6-2.

Two other seeded men were involved in mild upsets as Spaniard Juan Gisbert ousted No. 10 Francois Jauffret.

France's best player, 7-5, 7-5, and Fran Pala of Czechoslovakia beat 13th-seeded Jurgen Fassbender of West Germany 2-6, 6-1, 6-2.

Others seeded who won included Bjorn Borg of Sweden, Manuel Orantes of Spain, Guillermo Vilas of Argentina, Jaime Filol of Chile and Hans Pohman of West Germany.

Rutherford: Man vs. Machine

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Johnny Rutherford figures the California Grand Prix is more than a test of driving skill. For him, it's man vs. machine.

"You might say I have a grudge to settle with the car," the easy-going Texan said Tuesday in an interview. "It seems that every time I get into a car other than a championship (Indianapolis-type) car, it takes a bite out of me."

The champion of this year's 500-mile championship races at Indianapolis and Pocono still wears a cast on his left leg, which was broken during practice at Watkins Glen last July in his first try at Formula 5000 racing.

For the second time in his 15 years as a race driver, Rutherford will drive a Formula 5000 racer. He's entered to drive a Lola in the Grand Prix Sept. 1 at Ontario Motor Speedway.

He has driven in two U. S. Auto Club championship car races while wearing the cast, and he hopes to find out soon whether he'll have to wear it Sept. 1.

"I'm going to see Dr. Hugh Williams in Indianapolis Friday, and I'll try to pin him down on when I can get the cast off," said Rutherford. "It's coming along very nicely. If I have to, I'll drive with the cast."

The larger of the two leg bones was fractured about three inches above the ankle. "It was the first time I'd been in the car. I had gone six or eight laps when I lost control and crashed into a guard rail. Somewhere in the series of events my leg got whacked."

In two races since the accident, the 35-year-old Rutherford finished fourth and fifth.

He didn't blame his leg for failing to win either race, and said a scorer's mistake cost him victory or at least second place at Milwaukee in his second outing.

"We felt we got fouled up by the scoring. I think they took a lap from us during the race. We ran very good all day and felt we won it or finished no worse than second."

Watkins Glen wasn't Rutherford's first mishap involving cars other than championship.

In 1966 he sustained two broken arms in a sprint car crash. He escaped injury last July 4 when the stock car he was driving crashed early in the Firecracker 400 July 4 at Daytona.

"With or without the cast, I'm determined to prove myself in a Formula 5000 car," he said.

"In the two races I've driven since Watkins Glen, the leg has been more of a nuisance than anything, because of the bulk of the cast. I had to change my style a little bit because you normally use your left foot on the brake and your right foot on the throttle."

This has been an up and down year for Rutherford, but he calls it "by far" his most successful. His USAC purses total $374,469. He has won another $5,000 in stock-car racing. He ranks second to Bobby Unser in USAC championship points, 3,740-3,190.

"I'm not giving up," Rutherford said. "We have three races left on the schedule. It's going to take some luck. Bobby has a comfortable lead, but not too comfortable."

can't be enforced, discriminate against youngsters who actually do build their own cars, and lead to hypocrisy on the part of all concerned.

"If a kid's driving a car he didn't build, then someone's taught him to lie pretty well," says Gerald Bernhart, director from Fort Wayne, Ind. "Something has to be done about that rule if this race is ever going to be fair."

A compromise proposal envisions holding two races, one for child-built wooden cars and the other for so-called professional cars built with expert help.

"If those adults think it's so important for them to help, we'll give them an opportunity to do it," says derby general manager Ron Baker. "Just so long as they don't bother the kids, that's all."

But Bret Yarborough apparently has little concern about what rules changes are made, such as new requirement this year that axle steel must be of a certain hardness.

"Heck, my axles were very soft," he says of his winning car. "In fact, they're broken in two right now."

The "back to basics" plan has the better chance for acceptance, some directors say, but both have backers and opponents.

Cuyahoga County director Gordon Cherney says the "back to basics" plan "is sick" and still would give an edge to drivers whose "daddy engineer" helped out.

On the other hand, Robert Root, director from Lockport, N.Y., says that "we want nothing to do with the derby if they take it out of the child's hands."

"Abolish the contestant-built rule and you might just as well run the Indianapolis 500 race and be done with it," Root adds.

But many directors also oppose the current parental-help restrictions as well, saying they

State Garage Job To Terre Haute Firm

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Archonics Corp. of Terre Haute and Fort Wayne was given the quarter-million-dollar job Tuesday of designing a $6 million state parking garage and making a long-range development plan for the Capitol complex.

The State Office Building Commission asked that the conceptual phase of the Capitol complex master plan be ready by November or Mid-December, for consideration by the 1975 legislature.

It asked that architectural and engineering plans for the 3,000-car parking facility be rushed so construction could start in March.

Ewing H. Miller of Terre Haute, who will be archonics' partner-in-charge of planning the projects, called it "a difficult schedule but realistic." He said there were 15 or 20 major variables.

The firm will have to decide where the one or two multilevel garages will be built, consider where another state office building will be constructed, along with traffic problems and city of Indianapolis plans for other areas around the nearby Indiana Convention-Exposition Center.

Miller told the commission the Capitol complex "will be a focal point for the state and it is important that it (the plan) resolves itself in this context. We will do our best to respect everything else but the Capitol complex has its own importance."

Archonics will set up an office with Tom Dwyer, Indianapolis, as resident architect and Miller will devote full time to the project.

The firm will receive as its fee 4.3 per cent of the cost of the parking facility, to be one of the nation's largest, and will be paid $58,000 for the master plan for the complex.

Miller said the over-all plan will take a year to complete, although the general concept can be drawn up before the 1975 general assembly convenes.

Archonics was authorized to hire special parking facility consultants, at its own expense, but they must be approved by the commission.

George S. Diener, commission chairman, said 17 firms were interviewed by a subcommittee. They were reduced to three for each of the two contracts and bids were invited.

Diener said Archonics not only was the low bidder but "overshadowed the others" in long-range planning.

Previous Archonics projects have included planning land use for Indiana State University and campus planning in Evansville.

Diener, former Indiana House speaker, said he intends to keep the legislature well informed at all stages of the Capitol complex project. He said free parking for state employees on surface lots had become impractical because of land values involved.

Diener said the monthly

Present world oil reserves will last for perhaps 100 years. Domestic reserves may be exhausted sooner.

charge for parking in the multilevel facility, which probably will be six stories tall, will be between $5 and $10 a month—well below the commercial parking scale in Indianapolis.
